

On your pending orders page you can see orders that have not yet been filled yet, you can also amend and delete orders on this page.

Delete orders:

The Delete button lets you delete any unfilled portion of a pending order, i.e. if none of the order is filled then the order will be cancelled and no brokerage charged, but if the order is already partly filled then you will hold that amount of shares and the remainder of your order will be cancelled. You will be charged brokerage on the part of the order that has been processed.

Amend orders

The Amend order button will take you back to the order entry screen. Here you can make changes to the order, including changing the order type from a Market to limit to a Limit order, or adjusting the total number of units you would like to buy or sell.

Please be aware that if the order is being processed you may not be able to amend your order or only the part that is not processed will be amended.

The screenshot shows the 'Pending orders' page. At the top, there's a yellow header with the title 'Pending orders'. Below it, a paragraph explains that orders are displayed until processed and provides a link to 'Pending orders' for more help. A 'Refresh' link is on the right. Below this is a table with columns: Buy/Sell, Code, Unfilled, Filled, Order type, Last price, Trade value, Brokerage, Status, and Actions. A single row is visible for a 'BUY' order with code 'AAD', 1,000 unfilled units, and a limit price of $2.60. The status is 'Unfilled'. In the 'Actions' column, there are two buttons: 'Delete' and 'Amend'. Red arrows point to these buttons.

Buy/Sell	Code	Unfilled	Filled	Order type	Last price	Trade value	Brokerage	Status	Actions
BUY	AAD	1,000	0	Limit $2.60	$2.645	$2,600.00	$20.00	Unfilled	Delete Amend

Why is my order not filling?

There are a number of reasons why your order may not be being processed.

1. There is no volume in your chosen share. This means that in the real market there is a lack of buyers and sellers trading the stock you have chosen
2. You may have selected a Market to limit order type and it has only partially filled. The order has now changed to a Limit order and the price has moved away. This means that your order will now remain as a Limit order unless you use the Amend button and change the order type back to Market to limit on the order screen.
3. Your limit order may be too far away from the price in the market. As a result it is not being processed.

4. You may not have enough cash? If you run out of funds, the Game will put your pending orders into an insufficient funds state (see below). What you will need to do is either cancel the order (if unfilled), or sell some shares so that you have enough cash for the order to be processed. Once you have the available cash you will need to go back to your Orders pending page and reactivate the order. To do this, simply select the amend button and save. This will remove the insufficient funds message and reactivate your order.

As orders are processed they will appear on your portfolio page.

Order not filled due to insufficient funds. Please reactivate via Amend once you have enough funds.
