

Placing an order to buy or sell shares is the main activity of the Sharemarket Game. On the Place an order page you can buy and sell shares.

To place an order, you need to do the following:

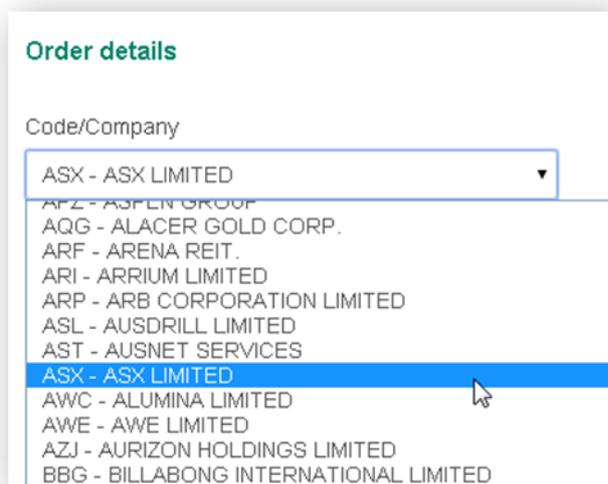

Step 1: Choose to buy or sell

Your first order in the Game will be a buy order as you can only sell stock that you have already purchased. So, select the buy button.

The screenshot shows a white box with the title "Order to" in green. Below the title are two radio buttons: "Buy" with a blue dot inside, and "Sell" with a grey dot inside.

Step 2: Select the company from the drop down box that you want to purchase shares in.

The screenshot shows a white box with the title "Order details" in green. Below the title is a label "Code/Company" and a dropdown menu. The dropdown menu is open, showing a list of company codes and names. The first item is "ASX - ASX LIMITED" and is highlighted in blue. A mouse cursor is pointing at the highlighted item. Other items in the list include "AFZ - ASPEN GROUP", "AQQ - ALACER GOLD CORP.", "ARF - ARENA REIT.", "ARI - ARRIUM LIMITED", "ARP - ARB CORPORATION LIMITED", "ASL - AUSTRILL LIMITED", "AST - AUSNET SERVICES", "AWC - ALUMINA LIMITED", "AWE - AWE LIMITED", "AZJ - AURIZON HOLDINGS LIMITED", and "BBG - BILLABONG INTERNATIONAL LIMITED".

Step 3: Enter the number of shares

The Game will let you know how many units you can buy under the Game's diversification rule (see below). It is up to you as to how many you purchase as long as it complies with the diversification rule.

Order details

Code/Company: ASX - ASX LIMITED

Number of shares: 200

Code:	ASX
Company name:	ASX LIMITED
Last sale price:	35.445
$+/-	↑ 0.025
%+/-	↑ 0.07%

! You have 352 available units @ 35.44 to buy under the diversification rule. ?

Tip: The diversification rule means your purchase cannot result in you having a holding that exceeds 25% or more of the dollar value of your total portfolio.

Step 4: Choose the order type

Order type

Market to limit Limit

You can choose either a market to limit order or a limit order.

A market to limit order starts out as an order that gets filled at whatever price is currently available in the market. But if you don't get all your order filled, the remainder of your order gets turned into a limit order at the price you paid for the first part of your order.

For example: Suppose you entered an order for 1000 shares as a market to limit order. The market price is $10.00 but you only get 600 shares at that price before the price moves away. What happens next is an order for the remainder of your shares (in this case 400 of them) is created and it is entered as a limit order at $10.00 which is the price you got for your first fill.

See Understanding order types for more information

A Limit order lets you set the price you want to buy or sell at. For a buy order you would set a price below the current market price to try and get the shares at a cheaper price. For a sell order you would enter at a price higher than the current market price to try and get a better sale price.

Another way of using the limit order - If you don't want to use the market to limit order but still want the best price, you could use a limit order but at a price a bit higher than the current market if buying, or a bit lower if selling. It will still execute at the best price but it gives you more scope to get all of your order filled straight away.

Step 5: Order preview

Once you have completed filling out the Order page, you need to double check all the details are correct before pressing the "Submit order" button. In the order preview section, you will also see the brokerage charge applied to your order. (Brokerage is the fee charged by stockbrokers. When trading in the real market you always use the services of a stockbroker.)

Clear Submit order

You will get a 'Do you want to proceed' pop up window and the chance to check your order again before finally submitting.

Once you have confirmed your order it will go to your Pending orders page.
